An invitation was received from the Machias Guild to attend a picnic on Wed., July 20 with Social at 5 and meal at 6. It will be held at the Jacksonville Methodist Church. Wear an apron and there will be prizes. Since this is our business meeting night, a vote was taken as to whether we attend the picnic or hold our meeting.. The picnic won unanimously so there will be no business meeting in July.

Mary Ann had talked to Carlene to see if she would do quilting again on the lap quilts at the same price as last year. Dana is in business again and announced she would like to be considered and will match Carlene's price. It was decided that since Dana is a member of the guild, we would give all the business to her.

The Breast Cancer Quilt Workshop was a huge success. It was not completely assembled as last year but will be done soon. The question was raised as to what to do with it and Joanne reported that the last one that went to Maine, she took to the Cancer Association Representative in Brewer and he was thrilled to get it. It was raffled off by the Society. It was felt this was a good thing to do with it. Also, future quilts need not be pink.
